Value of a Co-operative Educational Experiment.

RAW MATERIAL MADE USEFUL

How the "Schools in the Background" Are Contributing Toward the Race's Progress—Institutions Made Useful and Attractive Under Most Discouraging Conditions.

Dr. James Hardy Dillard, president of the Jeanes board, often refers to the one room Negro rural schools in the southern states as "schools in the background." His description is as accurate as it is vivid. From the little rural schools come some of the best "raw material" to be trained at Hampton, Tuskegee and other industrial schools for useful and safe race leadership. To the rural districts of the south the graduates of Hampton and Tuskegee return as progressive teachers, mechanics and farmers for lives of willing sacrifice.

Recently a party of forty-eight thoughtful northern "pilgrims" to Hampton visited as part of the anniversary program some of the rural Negro schools lying near the edge of Hampton's home county and saw—evidently with thrills of surprise and delight—what colored women, trained and inspired by Hampton, have been doing to make the one room, overcrowded Negro schools useful and attractive, even under most discouraging conditions—the inertia and indifference of the parents, the lack of public school money and the irregular attendance of pupils, which is due to bad roads.

That there are some modern heroines, not all of whom are white, dawn upon those who visit these out of the way rural schools.

The gradual improvement of many "schools in the background" in Virginia, for example, is the result of a happy and well planned experiment in co-operative educational association.

The Jeanes board, the Virginia state department of education, Hampton institute and the local school boards have pulled together and have demonstrated clearly that white people and black people, northerners and southerners, can work together on a common platform at social service for the education of country boys and girls who need for their life work good rural schools and, above all, capable and faithful teachers.

Jackson Davis, a well trained young southern white man of charming personality, has served most efficiently for four years as the state supervisor of negro schools in Virginia. He reports that last year the twenty-five colored industrial supervising teachers, working in twenty-seven Virginia counties, helped the rural colored teachers of the state in introducing cooking, sewing, home making and manual training in their schools and put new life into many Negro communities.

The result was that the Negroes themselves raised in twenty-five counties nearly $25,000 in cash for the improvement of their school buildings, lengthening of the school term and the improvement of physical equipment.

Such evidences as well made dresses, aprons and underwear, attractive jars of canned vegetables and fruits, useful baskets of raffia and white oak, fresh garden vegetables and neat papers in arithmetic, spelling and composition indicate that the Negro race, with the help of young Negro men and women who are properly trained for teaching and are disciplined for service, is making progress and that the "schools in the background" are making their contributions to the race's progress in spite of neglect, isolation and the lack of general public interest.

EVIL OF RACE PREJUDICE.

Wounded Man Refused Admission to Pottsville (Pa.) Hospital Dies.

The evil effects of race prejudice were brought prominently to public view in Pottsville, Pa., on May 20, when an effort was made to have George Baxter, who had been severely wounded in a mine explosion, admitted to the Pottsville hospital. Martin Dolan, a contract miner for whom George Baxter worked, obtained a mandamus which would have admitted the wounded man to the hospital, but while the authorities of the institution were wrangling in court, over Baxter's admission he died.

One of Baxter's eyes had been blown out while at work and the other seriously injured, which required a speedy operation. Mr. Dolan offered to pay all the extra expense of a private ward, but the hospital officials refused to permit Baxter's entrance until the board of managers consented, although a section in the charter of the hospital provides that no distinction shall be made in the treatment of patients on account of color or nationality.

PROFESSOR JACQUES LOEB ON RACIAL INFERIORITY.

Great Mental Powers Are Not Limited to Special Races, He Says.

New York.—Professor Jacques Loeb of Columbia university in this city was prevented by illness from attending the recent conference of the National Association For the Advancement of Colored People held in Baltimore. The subject assigned to Professor Loeb was "Heredity and Racial Inferiority." Here are a few extracts from the address prepared by Professor Loeb for the occasion:

The modern work on heredity has shown that hereditary characters are as a rule not linked, but are transmitted independently of each other. It is therefore contrary to all known facts to say that with a pigmented skin or with a certain type of eyes must necessarily be connected a lower degree of intelligence or moral control.

Practically nothing is known concerning the mechanism or the heredity of mental or moral traits. It seems that certain talents run in certain families—that is to say, unusual mathematical ability, musical ability and talent for drawing. All known facts indicate that they are not limited to special races; but that they are the peculiarity of certain strains or families, independently of race.

We do not even know to what extent the development of mental and moral traits depends upon the condition of the brain and the nervous system alone, and to what extent upon the action of chemical substances produced in other organs of the body in the form of internal secretions. Until this is settled all positive statements

It is an open question whether with equal facilities and equal care the children of different races would show widely different mental and moral development.

The statement expressed so often that intermarriage or mixture of races leads to degeneracy is unwarranted and contradicted, to some extent at least, by recent investigations. The experiments of Burbank, East and Schall have proved conclusively that race mixture may improve the breed. In view of these and other considerations the writer is of the opinion that it is not only contrary to justice, but also contrary to scientific facts to deny the colored people equal rights and equal economic, social and educational facilities with the whites.

EDWARD WATERS COLLEGE.

Institution in Jacksonville, Fla., Holds Brilliant Commencement Exercises.

Jacksonville, Fla.—The commencement week of exercises at the Edward Waters college in this city came to a close on Thursday, May 28. The address was delivered by Bishop John Hurst, D. D., of the Eleventh Episcopal district. The primary department exercises were held in Odd Fellows' hall on Wednesday evening, May 20. The theological department held its program Thursday evening, May 21, in the St. Paul church, and the address was delivered by the Rev. Dr. E. J. Jackson of Ocala, Fla.

The exercises of the eighth grade graduating class were held in the chapel of the college. The baccalaureate sermon was preached by President John A. Gregg at the Mount Zion church. May 25 was known as Patrons' day. The features were class day exercises and an interesting baseball game played between the college and alumni teams. The program for the evening consisted of an oratorical contest for the S. D. McGill prizes and a debate between the Moore and Satter literary societies for the A. L. Lewis trophy.

The annual address to the literary societies was delivered by Dr. T. J. Williams of Miami on Tuesday evening, May 26. The recital given by the certificate music class was held the same day in the afternoon. The exercises concluded with a banquet by the Alumni association.

The music department gave a musicale on Wednesday evening, May 27. The school has had a most successful year. All departments have been well attended, and the students have taken unusual interest in their studies and the work of the institution as represented in its catalogue.

ANNUAL MEETING OF PHYSICIANS

Medical Association to Hold Session in Raleigh.

FEATURES OF THE PROGRAM

Local Committee in North Carolina Capital Busy With Plans For Entertaining the Sixteenth Annual Session of the National Organization. Noted Men to Conduct Clinics.

The sixteenth annual session of the National Medical association will be held in Raleigh, N. C., from Aug. 25 to 27, inclusive. The invitation for this meeting was extended by the North Carolina Medical, Dental and Pharmaceutical association and was supplemented by personal invitations from the mayor of Raleigh and the president of the board of trade. The physicians in the city of Raleigh have organized into an effective committee and, aided by an enthusiastic citizens' body, are making every preparation to insure the success of this session of the National Medical association.

The meeting which was held last year in the city of Nashville, Tenn., was without doubt the greatest in the history of the organization. The attendance was unusually large, and the sessions held in the various sections of surgery, medicine, dentistry and pharmacy were marked with interest and enthusiasm. The papers read on the various subjects were of the highest order and showed that the men are making great advances in personal research. The clinics were numerous and very interesting.

The men of North Carolina are determined that the session to be held in Raleigh shall surpass the one held in Nashville in 1913 and to that end are sparing no efforts to carry out their plans. Shaw hospital, which has been temporarily closed, will be opened during convention week for the holding of clinics. There will be a number of these in all the departments of medicine.

Some of those who have already indicated their intention to be present and to conduct clinics are: Drs. Curtis, Warfield and Carson of Washington; Hunter of Lexington, Ky.; Brown of Birmingham, Ala.; Williams and Daley of Chicago. With such an array of distinguished surgeons as these there is no doubt that every department of surgery will be thoroughly demonstrated.

The medical clinics will be conducted by Drs. Roberts of New York city, Williams of Chicago, Townsend of Nashville, Tenn.; McCleary of Jacksonville, Fla., and Turner of St. Paul, Minn. The dental clinics will be conducted by Drs. Ferguson and Ramsey of Richmond, Va.; Chapman of Kansas City, Mo.; Landers of Tuskegee, Ala.; and Anderson of Jacksonville, Fla. There will be numerous demonstrations in the pharmaceutical section which will be under the charge of Dr. Marble of Yazoo City, Miss., and Dr. McCauley of Raleigh, N. C.

There is every indication that the attendance will be very large, for the secretary of the association has been informed from all sections of the country that the profession is thoroughly awakened to the needs and benefits to be derived from the National Medical association. The general secretary, Dr. W. G. Alexander of Orange, N. J., is arranging a program that will include a variety of subjects in all the departments of medicine. The officers of the association are Dr. A. M. Brown, president; Dr. J. M. G. Ramsey, vice president; Dr. E. J. La Branche, second vice president, and Dr. George E. Cannon, chairman executive board.

Mississippi Medical Association.

The fourteenth annual meeting of the Mississippi Medical, Dental, Pharmaceutical and Surgical association, recently held in Jackson, Miss., was well attended. The meeting was held for two days, and the sessions were presided over by that eminent student of the medical profession, Dr. D. W. Sherrod of Meridian, Miss., president of the association.

The program was carried out by divisions, with a chairman of each from the different cities in the state, as follows: Medicine, Dr. E. W. Moore, Jackson; surgery, Dr. L. T. Miller, Yazoo City; dentistry, Dr. C. L. Barnes, Jackson; pharmacy, Dr. William P. Harrison, Vicksburg; scientific research, Dr. R. L. Johnson, Jackson; necrology, Dr. J. M. May, Moss Point.

Women and girls who pass through Chicago alone will hereafter have the assistance of policemen.

OFFICIAL PLANS FOR THE SUNDAY SCHOOL CONGRESS.

Meeting of National Religious Body Will Be Largely Attended.

Nashville, Tenn.—At a special meeting of the Sunday school congress official board and the National Baptist Publishing-board recently held it was decided that the Nashville delegation to the ninth annual meeting of the Sunday school congress to be held in Beaumont, Tex., would leave Nashville on Monday night, June 8, or early Tuesday morning, June 9.

It was decided to go by way of the New Orleans gateway. The secretary of the Sunday school congress stated that an effort would be made to have a special train this year as heretofore and that in view of the fact that selections of delegations were coming in so fast the prospects were that a special train would be necessary. He also stated that he did not know how many of the northern and eastern delegates would come through Nashville, but that he had received several letters from points north and east asking if it were possible to go by way of Nashville. He has replied to each, saying that this information would have to be given to them by the various railroad representatives.

The committee of arrangements for the entertainment of the visitors are the members of the executive committee, which is composed of Drs. Gibson, Bendy and Williamson and Professor J. P. Eugene. The chairman of the various committees are: Arrangements, Dr. M. E. Robinson; reception, Dr. C. H. McDade; entertainment, Dr. M. Hurd; decoration, Dr. W. H. Holland; music, Professor L. L. Foster and Joseph D. Turner; homes, J. R. Jacobs; assignment, Professor Thomas T. Pollard and J. P. Eugene; solicitation, John H. Rhone. With these active workers already in line the work of the congress is in safe hands.

WELL MANAGED SCHOOL.

Progress of the Utica Institute Under Professor W. H. Holtzclaw.

Utica, Miss.—The Utica Institute, located four miles south of here, is recognized as one of the leading institutions in the south for the education and advancement of Afro-American boys and girls. Under the wise management of the president, Professor William H. Holtzclaw, the school is meeting the needs of its large student body in a most satisfactory way.

Seeing the great need of industrial education in the south, Mr. Holtzclaw struggled strenuously under difficulties to plant a school to give the young people, especially of Mississippi, a chance to acquire such an education as would fit them for making their way through life.

During its eleven years of existence the school has done a wonderful and commendable work. Graduates of the school since its establishment are filling nearly every position in the walk of life with honor to themselves and credit to their alma mater.

The enrollment this year was over 500, coming from Alabama, Louisiana, Arkansas, Tennessee, Cuba and Mississippi. The high class work done by the institution places it in the front rank. Perhaps nowhere in this country can be found an institution that is more alive to the needs and best interests of its students.

The character of its work was clearly shown in the fact that at the state fair held in Jackson, Miss., in October, 1913, the school won first prizes for nearly every department exhibit, notwithstanding every school in the state was represented, and the Utica Normal and Industrial institute was the youngest of them all.

The faculty of the school consists of thirty-two well trained young men and women, some of whom are graduates of some of the leading institutions of learning in this country.

Professor Holtzclaw was born of humble parentage on a farm in Randolph county, Ala. Starting with such education as was offered him in his home county he made his way to Tuskegee institute, where he worked during the day and went to school at night for four years, when he graduated from that institution with honors.

The school held its commencement exercises recently. Ten young people received diplomas and certificates. This is the largest number of graduates ever sent out from the school at one time.

Annual Meeting of Good Samaritans.

The forty-third annual meeting of the New Jersey state grand lodge of the Independent Order of Good Samaritans will be held at Long Branch, beginning on Wednesday morning, June 3, at 10 o'clock. Large delegations from the various subordinate lodges will be in attendance. The address of welcome will be delivered by Dr. William B. Scott, deputy for the fifth district. Miss Estell Duncney and Mrs. Grace Hall, head workers in the juvenile department, will render their annual reports at the evening session on Wednesday, June 3.

LIBERIAN LEADER VISITS AMERICA

Dr. Reed Here in the Interest of Donovan Institute.

WILL EMULATE TUSKEGEE

School to Be Founded With Fund Left by Baltimore Woman, but More Money Is Needed—Future President a Clergyman and Educator of Much Note in His Adopted Land.

That matters of great importance in the educational advance of the republic of Liberia are in contemplation is indicated by the visit to this country of Dr. John H. Reed, principal of the projected Caroline Donovan Normal and Industrial institute, which will be located in Great Bassa county, Liberia. The school has been made possible through the turning over to Dr. Ernest Lyon, the Liberian consul to this country, of $35,000 of the accrued income left by the late Miss Caroline

DR. JOHN HAMILTON REED.

Donovan of Baltimore to the American Colonization society. It will be modeled along the lines of Tuskegee institute.

Dr. John Hamilton Reed is a native of the United States of America and received his full collegiate course at New Orleans university, New Orleans, being graduated from that institution June 2, 1891. Soon after graduation he went to Texas, where he taught for awhile in the normal and industrial institution under the supervision of the department of education of the state located at Prairie View, Tex. He was also for a number of years professor of mathematics at Wiley university, Marshall, Tex.

He was for a number of years connected with the Texas annual conference, being honored as secretary of the conference for nearly ten years. Leaving this conference, he was transferred to the Little Rock conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, where the city of Little Rock felt his leadership in the pastorate of Wesley chapel, the leading church in that conference, for four years. Here, under his leadership, a $30,000 brick church was built. It stands today as the best monument of his efforts in the ministry.

In 1905 he was appointed by the board of foreign missions of the Methodist Episcopal church to the foreign field, Africa, and with his wife, Mrs. Marguerite Louise Reed, and two children, Walter and Florence, began a career of great influence in connection with the work of the College of West Africa at Monrovia, Liberia.

In 1908 Dr. Reed was commissioned by the state department of the United States of America as vice consul general to Liberia and holds that commission still as a bonded officer, under bond sureties in the city of Baltimore. In the month of February, 1914, he was duly appointed and commissioned by his excellency, Daniel E. Howard, president of the Republic of Liberia, as principal of the Caroline Donovan Normal and Industrial institute, which was established by an act of the national legislature under the trust fund known as the Donovan fund.

The site for the establishment of the educational plant has been duly selected in the county of Grand Bassa, republic of Liberia, upon a tract of land comprising 5,000 acres of land in one of the most productive and beautiful sections in the interior of the republic. Dr. Reed, as principal of the institute, has been duly commissioned and empowered by the executive government of the Liberian republic to visit the United States for the purpose of interesting other organized financial agencies in this great educational movement.

His further mission is to procure all the necessary materials and equipment for the immediate establishment of the institute under the provisions of the act of incorporation through the Donovan fund made available for this purpose. The president of the board of trustees, with the executive committee, gave the principal full power of attorney in the administration of this fund during his trip to America, to confer with the depositaries of the fund and carry into effect everything necessary for the permanent founding of this important institute in Liberia.

NOTABLE CAREER OF DR. W. P. HAYES

Valuable Reforms Perfected in Short Space of Time.

SCHOLARLY AND ENERGETIC

Pastor of Mount Olivet Baptist Church in New York is One of the Most Active Uplifters of His Countrymen. Enlivened Life of His Church Wonderfully.

New York.—Rev. Dr. W. P. Hayes, one of the most scholarly and progressive of the younger school of preachers, celebrated his third anniversary as the pastor of Mount Olivet Baptist church with appropriate and special anniversary exercises, Sunday, May 17. The day was notable in the history of the church, and the exercises were the most brilliant seen in connection with its history. Dr. Hayes' anniversary was celebrated in connection with the thirty-sixth anniversary of the church, and during the long history of the congregation it has never been in better condition than at the present time.

During the three years' pastorate of Dr. Hayes he has brought about a complete reformation in the life of the church, until today the new features inaugurated by Dr. Hayes make Mount Olivet Baptist church one of the most thoroughly modern churches conducted by the race in this country. Dr. Hayes came to Olivet when it was passing through a crucial period and when wise and executive leadership was needed to bring about harmony and good will. Among the new reforms that Dr. Hayes has perfected that have given the church a distinctive tone in the city is the carrying out of a system that has to do with the proper handling of the finances. This system is arranged after the most approved financial system now in vogue in the most progressive churches of the country.

The various departments of the church at the close of the year must submit their budgets to the prudential committee, this committee refers it to the joint board and the board passes it to the corporation for approval. This method is doubtless the most modern method of handling the finances of the church of any system in this city. All moneys raised in every one of the church departments are turned over to the trustees and can be drawn only on a written order from the trustees. This system enables the church to properly account for all money raised. Dr. Hayes' church has abolished the old custom of the table collection. Collection now is made in from eight to ten minutes and with less confusion. The winning power of Dr. Hayes as preacher is seen in the splendid manner in which in the short space of three years he has added over 700 members to the church and raised $32,156.80. He has conducted 152 funeral services, preached 466 sermons and delivered a number of lectures. Eighty-five couples have been united in matrimony by Dr. Hayes, and he has paid 785 sick calls. Many improvements have taken place since his pastorate, and the church today is thoroughly organized and united.

Dr. Hayes, since coming to this city, has won the confidence and esteem of the entire public, irrespective of denomination, and is one of the most forceful and highly respected clergymen in the uplift of the race.

The Rev. W. P. Hayes was born in

HINTS FOR THE BUSY HOUSEWIFEFolding Screen Cover to Keep Flies From a Bed.

Folding screen panels to protect beds and cribs from flies and mosquitoes are the interesting part of a patent recently taken out. The screen arrangement is designed especially for babies' cribs, but it can be built on a larger scale for any bed. It consists of two screened panels fastened permanently above the sideboards of the bed and another screen panel which serves as a cover. An ingenious hinged lever arrangement is fastened to one side of the cover so that it can be folded down on one side, out of the way.

Kitchen Kinks.

An apple placed in the bread or cake box will keep the contents moist.

A heated lemon will yield about twice as much juice as a cold one.

After rolling pie crust and fitting in pie plates set in the refrigerator until well chilled. Then fill the crusts and bake as usual.

When frying fish sprinkle the pan with salt before putting in the grease, and the fish is less likely to break up in turning.

Before using fruit jars boil them in baking soda and water, using a tablespoonful of soda to a gallon of water. This destroys the mold germ.

When polishing the stove dip the finger tips in a little grease or oil and that will prevent the finger nails from being discolored.

Raised Doughnuts.

Old fashioned raised doughnuts are made as follows: One pint risen milk bread dough, one cupful sugar, two eggs, one tablespoonful melted butter, spice to taste, flour enough to roll out. Put the bread dough into a bowl and work the other ingredients into it, the flour last. Roll out, cut and fry in deep fat. To prevent the doughnuts from soaking fat the fat should be boiling briskly when they are dropped in and only a few put in at a time, so as not to cool the fat too much. As they are cooked the doughnuts should be laid on paper to drain.

Cheese Cake.

One and one-half cupfuls cottage cheese, two tablespoonfuls cream, one-half cupful sugar, three eggs, juice and grated rind of one lemon (or, if preferred, one teaspoonful vanilla) and one teaspoonful melted butter. Press the curd through a colander, add the eggs, well beaten, then the other ingredients, and beat all till smooth. Line a deep pie dish with paste, fill with this mixture and bake thirty minutes. If desired, some currants may be added. Little tarts baked in patty pans are nice filled with this mixture.

Polishing Metals.

Brass that is badly stained can best be cleaned with one of the regular brass pastes. It can then be polished with a flannel and a little whiting if it was in an especially bad condition. Nickel can be cleaned with whiting and vinegar if it is too badly stained to be cleaned with hot water, which really ought to keep nickel in good condition. Zinc can best be cleaned with turpentine. Any amount of rubbing with the usual cleansing powders may be unavailing in the case of zinc, but turpentine is effective.

Clogged Sink Pipes.

If any of the drains from sinks and wash basins seem to be clogged they can be cleaned with washing soda. A lot of it should be crumbled into the pipe, and then bubbling, boiling water should be slowly poured over it. This solution will clean the pipe from grease, and if it seems still clogged a plumber's attention will probably reveal the presence of solid substances—hair or dust or bits of paper or cloth.

Cleaning Glassware.

When glass water pitchers or any other glassware becomes clouded from the sediment which settles at the bottom and on sides, caused by putting hard water into vessels, put old coffee grounds into the vessels to be cleaned and leave standing for several days. This cleans the glass wonderfully, giving it the same bright finish that it has when new.

Renewing Shoe Polish.

Box shoeblackening frequently becomes hard and crumbly before the contents of the box are used. Put the box on the back of the range, and in a few minutes the heat will cause it to melt, forming a paste. When cold the contents of the box will be of their original consistency.—Country Gentleman.

Care of Hairbrushes.

Never wash hairbrushes with soap, as this softens the bristles. Instead sprinkle a teaspoonful of baking powder over the bristles and souse the brush up and down and sideways in a deep bowl of water until clean. Rinse well and dry in the sun.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTSpecial Extra; McGraw Has Already Won 1914 Pennant.

Johnny McGraw, manager of the New York National baseball team, has already won the pennant for 1914. Mac says his lineup has all the other teams "beaten a mile" and that with Pitcher Mathewson in the shape he has shown in practice he should establish a new record for winning games.

The Giants have taken several minor leaguers south for tryouts.

Chicago Boating Dates.

Members of the Boat Owners' association of the Chicago Yacht club gathered recently for their last dinner and business meeting of the winter season. Chairman James O. Heyworth presided and introduced several speakers, who outlined plans for next summer's events, while Captain Clark, commandant of the United States naval training station at Lake Bluff, related some of his experiences during the early days of the navy.

President C. Fred Weed of the Lake Michigan Yachting association announced for the first time the official schedule as drawn up by the controlling body of the sport in that section. The schedule follows:

May 30—Official opening of all clubs.
June 4—Open.
June 12—Open.
June 20—Michigan City race, auspices Columbia Yacht club.

June 26, 27, 28—Triangular cruising race to St. Joe, Michigan City and Chicago, auspices Chicago Yacht club.

July 4—L. M. Y. A. open regatta, auspices Lincoln Park Yacht club.

July 11—Lipton trophy race.

July 13—Open.

Aug. 1—MacKinnon cruising race, auspices Chicago Yacht club.

Aug. 7—Sail and power boat cruise to White Lake, auspices White Lake Yacht club.

Aug. 15—Open.

Aug. 20, 21, 22—Lipton cup races, auspices Columbia Yacht club.

Aug. 29—Michigan City race, auspices Jackson Park Yacht club.

Sept. 5, 6, 7—Stratford hotel trophy race, St. Joe and return, auspices Columbia Yacht club.

Sept. 12—Open fall regatta, auspices Columbia Yacht club.

Wolverenes May Lose Star.

Because he played two years on the nine of Cornell college in Iowa John W. Cory, star outfielder on the Michigan varsity ball squad in 1913, may be barred from further competition for Michigan because of the rule which prohibits a player serving more than three years in collegiate athletics.

The athletic authorities are now investigating Cory's case and are to report in a short time. The loss of Cory will be a severe blow to the batting strength of the diamond squad, as he had been relied upon to take the place at the head of the batting list left vacant by Captain Bell of last year's team.

Rich Kentucky Derby.

The Kentucky Derby will be the richest race in the forty years' history of this classic event. Secretary Lyman H. Davis has announced the conditions of the coming big event, and for the first time in the history of the race $10,000 in added money is given by the New Louisville Jockey club. This with the subscription and starting moneys will make the old fashioned classic a $15,000 race this season.

The greatest amount ever added before to the big race was in 1913, when $5,000 was given.

Mainleaf Sold For $13,500.

Mainleaf, 2:08 1/4, a three-year-old trotting stallion, brought a high price at the annual horse sales at Lexington, Ky., recently, when he was purchased by John W. Trimble of Mount Sterling, Ky., for $13,500. Mainleaf was one of the leading performers in the trotting world while a two-year-old, and his former owner, James R. Magowan of Kentucky, had received several offers for the stallion from two foreign governments.

reaching a marked maximum in August, 1912, appears to have now practically disappeared.

The long proposed Crocodile river (South Africa) irrigation scheme is likely to be realized, the cost being estimated at not less than $3,310,000. The area brought in condition for cultivation will be 60,000 acres.

As the Greek government is of opinion that the British soldier is the best dressed fighting man in Europe they have instructed a well known London military tailor to design new uniforms for all their officers and men.

Hereafter the bars in the province of Quebec will not be allowed to open until 7:30 a. m., half an hour later than at present. This is to prevent the workmen of the province from taking a drink on the way to work.

A machine has been devised for imitating the noise of an aeroplane engine with the object of alarming hostile troops. The Serbian and Montenegrin troops used a rattle during the Balkan war to imitate machine gun fire.

A Scottish woman who has just died left a will in which she instructed the executor to erect statues of herself, her parents, her brothers and her sisters—twelve statues in all—and to spend annually the sum of $10,000 upon the same.

Complaints are made in Paris that tomatoes, melons, cucumbers, squashes—nearly everything except potatoes—have become so high priced that they are beyond the reach of working people whose daily earnings do not exceed 80 cents or $1.

Ghent, Belgium, furnishes practically all of the potted specimens of the symmetrical Araucaria, or Norfolk island pine, used as an ornamental foliage house plant in Europe and America.
The United States imports at least 250,000 of these plants in small pots each year.

In one of the camps on the shore of Lake Sebago, Me., there is a fireplace which bears the likeness of the face of a man or animal. The rocks have been collected from many miles around, and the effect is heightened by glass eyes which have been added.

The Allen Endeavor League State Convention Adjourns After An Interesting Session.

The A. C. E. League State Convention, held at Vincennes, adjourned
Sunday after a most interesting session.

Notwithstanding the fact that this was only the second State Convention, held by the organization, a large delegation, representing twenty-five of the African Methodist churches throughout the State, was present. Among other business of importance the convention adopted resolutions condemning the apparent indifference on the part of President Wilson and other high officials in regard to lynching of colored men and women in Southern states, also discrimination and segregation of all kinds when actuated by prejudice. All forms of liquor traffic were condemned. Resolutions were adopted commending the work being pursued in the interest of the colored people by the National Association for the advancement of colored people; also the work of many of the colored ministers in their active fight against all forms of vice.

It was decided that the term
"Negro," as used at the present time, is not a title of respect, and should not be adhered to by the race, but that Afro-American should be more generally used.

A song, entitled "Winning the Day," and composed by Miss Elizabeth Mays, was received and sung with great enthusiasm, and was adopted as the League motto song.

The following State officers were elected for the year: President, W.
D. Shannon, of Evansville; vice-president, Miss Olive Raine, of Mitchell;
junior superintendent, Miss Elizabeth Mays, of Indianapolis; financial secretary, Miss Mazie Winslow, of Indianapolis; corresponding secretary, Miss Daphne Silence, of Vincennes;
assistant secretary, Miss Chrystobel
Baxter, of Bloomington; treasurer,
Mrs. Juanita Hawkins, of Washington.

The funeral of Fred Carter who died Wednesday will be held this morning at 10 a. m. from the residence, 829 N.
Senate avenue. Rev. H. P. Thomas will officiate. He leaves a wife, a brother Wm. Coates and sister Miss Eddie Hunt.

John Churchill, 943 Camp street.

The funeral of Mrs. Catherine Baxter, who died Friday night of last week, was held Monday afternoon at Jones Tabernacle, of which she was a member. The services were conducted by Rev. Rowan. She was a member of the Household, No. 34 and Queen

ON THE WINGS
OF A CYCLONE

Whirling Storm Brought Freedom to a Convict.

Ralph Kirby, convict, having a good record, was ordered to work with a party outside the prison inclosure. Of course prison officials stood over the workmen with loaded rifles.

But something came up in comparison with which the rifles of the guards were but as popguns. Kirby looked up from his work and saw a black cloud coming that looked more terrible than the judge who years before had passed sentence upon him. It was a balloon shaped, the neck trailing on the ground. He glanced at the guards and saw that they were standing with their backs to the prison wall, with the cloud also behind them.

It passed between him and his guards. Being forewarned, he threw himself flat on the ground and held on to a stout bush. When it had passed the guards were nowhere to be seen.
There was method in what he did when he started to run in the wake of the storm. It was the only direction he could go to find possible safety. He ran a mile over a ruined strip of country, when he came to a small village that had been wrecked. Before a house that had been turned around and blown over on its side a man was lying on his back dead. Kirby noticed that the head had been disfigured beyond recognition. He was planning ahead, and his plans were made with lightning rapidity. He took the dead man's clothing for himself and put his stripes on the dead man. Then, taking up the body, he carried it to a distance from the wrecked village and threw it in a ditch.

The storm had no sooner passed than parties were sent out to scour the country for those convicts who had escaped. But they were not the only persons moving about. Without the narrow belt traversed by the storm no one had been injured, and rescue parties were coming from all directions. Kirby, whose long confinement had brought ill health, had by this time used up all his strength. In the outskirts of the village a house had been reduced to a heap of kindling wood. Kirby decided to crawl in under the wreck. He had wormed himself in as far as possible when a rescue party came along and, seeing his boots, uncovered him. Feigning death, he lay on his back, but one of the party put his ear to the convict's heart and heard it throbbing. Liquor was poured down his throat, and he knew that his sham could not be kept up. Through partly closed lids he saw that no prison official was present, and he opened his eyes.
He begged the party to leave him and go on to others who needed their attention.
They were persuaded and did as he suggested.

Then came another party, and the convict, mistaking them for searchers from the prison, again feigned death.
By this time it was dark, and his effort was more successful—almost too successful.
They began to dig beside him, and when they had made a shallow grave they put him in and covered him with earth. He was about to cry out when it occurred to him that they were not burying him deep and the earth above him would be loose.
No sooner had the shovelfuls of clods ceased to pound him than he began to push them away for air.

Meanwhile all who could be spared from the prison were scouring the country far and wide. Judging that those who had escaped would attempt to hide in the track of the storm, they followed it, and one of them, Jim Mackin, came upon the body wearing Kirby's stripes. He identified it as Kirby by the clothes and concluded that there was one less prisoner to be recaptured. Being well armed, he pushed on alone. As the burying party were completing their work of covering Kirby, Mackin was approaching the grave, and they disappeared in the darkness just before he came up. Seeing something moving directly before him, Mackin threw a light from his lantern upon the spot just in time to strike the corpse-like face of Convict Kirby rising from the grave.

Prison officials are not likely to be easily rattled, but Mackin had a few minutes before seen the body of the convict, and the sight of the dead man's features confronting him in this fashion was too much for his nerves. Throwing down his gun and lantern, he ran as fast as his legs would carry him.

Kirby, kicking off the earth, arose from his grave, picked up the lantern and was hurrying away when he saw the light glisten on metal and found the gun.
This gave him courage. He could either appear to be hunting for bodies or convicts, as he liked. He worked his way through the people scurrying about till he heard a distant locomotive whistle. A few minutes later he struck the rails and by the lights near by a station. Best of all, the locomotive headlight shone far down the road and was slowly growing brighter. Throwing away his gun and lantern, he ran for the station and reached it just as the train pulled out. Being without money and fearing the station would be watched, he darted under a car and clung to the bottom.

Ralph Kirby is now a sheep raiser in Australia. He has been hunted for, not to be again imprisoned, but to be informed that the man who committed the crime he was convicted of has confessed.

Resolutions.

Whereas it has pleased God to remove from our midst our esteemed and beloved President and faithful co-worker Minnie E. Scott, be it resolved that we the members of the Woman's club extend to the bereaved husband and family our deepest sympathy in this their hour of sadness.

Sleep on Sister Scott for you are resting from your labor. No more shall we join hands with you in our work of love and charity. No more shall it be yours to seek to lift up fallen humanity, administer to the needs of the widow and orphan, bring sunshine and love to the invalid.

We shall strive to carry forward the work so well begun by you and when it shall be ours to pay the debt that you so recently paid. We shall meet again in that haven of rest and again with you we shall unite our voices in song and prayer around the throne of God, where there will be no sorrow, no pain nor death for God will wash away our tears. Sleep on Sister Minnie Scott till God shall bid thee rise.

Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family.

The Apostolic Faith Assembly
Corner Senate Ave. and 11th St.

Because of the famine that is in the land, not for bread and water, but for hearing the word of God, it has been enjoined upon us by the Lord to hold continuous services from one end of the year to the other and this we are doing by the strength of Israel's God. The full gospel is preached in all of its primitive simplicity. The sick are being healed, devils cast out, sinners saved, prodigals are returning to the Lord and being baptized with the Holy Ghost and the poor are having the gospel preached unto them. Everybody welcome. Come and bring the sick and all who are in need of the Water of Life. No collections are taken. The entire work is supported by the freewill offering. No membership sought after nor attained. Services every night at 7:30 except Saturday. Bible Reading, Tuesday and Friday 2 p. m.; Sunday 5 and 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. All are welcome.

Lesson IX.—Second Quarter, For May 31, 1914.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Luke xvii, 11-19. Memory Verses, 17-19—Golden Text, Luke xvii, 18—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Before we consider the grateful Samaritan it will be helpful to look at the Whitsuntide lesson on the revealing spirit in 1 Cor. ii, 1-10. Whether it be the Old Testament or the New, the great truth stands that "the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God," but what a comfort it is that the believer has received the Spirit of God that he may know the things that are freely given of God. To the natural man who has not been born again these things of God are all foolishness, for only the spiritual man can discern the things of the Spirit (1 Cor. ii, 11-14). The whole Bible has been written by the Spirit of God and is forever settled in heaven (II Tim. iii, 16; Ps. cxix, 89), so that it may truly be said to be the Spirit's Bible copyrighted in heaven. He therein tells us of the living and true God, His love for the lost, His great salvation, His coming kingdom and glory. He also tells us of the devil as the great enemy of God and man, the father of lies, the murderer, the god of this world, who will to the last make war with the Lord and the saints, but who will finally be sent to the lake of fire forever.

As to the inability of the wisdom of this world to grasp things spiritual, consider the revelations of God given to the kings of Egypt and Babylon, the utter helplessness of all the wise men of those lands to grapple with them, and the ease with which Joseph and Daniel, men of God filled with the Spirit of God, solved every difficulty. The Spirit is ever ready to convince of sin and lead the sinner to Jesus Christ, the Saviour. Then by His word He gives assurance of salvation, then makes the body of the believer His temple, revealing Christ to him and through him and working in him all the good pleasure of the Lord unless hindered by pride, unbelief or self in some form of working.

No one was ever so filled with and controlled by the Holy Spirit as the Lord Jesus Christ, and in Him the Spirit wrought perfectly and unhindered (Acts i, 38). It was so in some measure with prophets and apostles (II Pet. i, 21; Acts i, 8; ii, 4; iv, 31; v, 32; vi, 3; vii, 55; xlii, 2), and there is nothing we should so earnestly and constantly desire as to be filled with and controlled by the Holy Spirit, remembering that nothing can ever be accomplished for God by the might or power or wisdom of man, but only by the Spirit of God (Zech. iv, 6).

Turning to the regular lesson, we see our Lord on His way to Jerusalem, whither His face was steadfastly set, for the time was drawing near for Him to be received up, or, in other words, to be slain and be raised the third day (Luke ix, 22, 51). Although He and His messengers were sent primarily to the lost sheep of the house of Israel and not to gentiles or Samaritans (Matt. x, 5, 6; xv, 24), for the kingdom was for Israel, and He was Israel's Messiah, yet He was ever ready to bless all, and the time was drawing near when He would be rejected and crucified by the Jews, then the kingdom would be postponed and the gospel given to all the world to gather from thence in this age of "the mystery" His body, the church, to share with Him His kingdom and glory. As these ten lepers stood afar off and cried, "Jesus, Master, have mercy on us," His heart of compassion went out to them, and He sent them to the priests, which implied that their request was granted and the work was done (Luke v, 14; Matt. viii, 4). They evidently so understood it and started on their way, and as they went they were cleansed. One of the ten was so full of joy and gratitude that he at once turned back to thank his healer, and glorifying God with a loud voice fell on his face at Jesus' feet and gave Him thanks. He was a Samaritan, which seems to imply that the rest were Jews. How pathetic seems our Lord's question, "Were there not ten cleansed, but where are the nine?" None to give glory to God save this stranger. Is it so still that He finds gratitude only in one out of ten? How is it with you?

Leprosy was one of the emblems of Israel's national condition before God, as when Moses' hand was made leprous and then healed (Ex. iv, 6, 7) God would teach Moses and Pharaoh that, though Israel was in the sight of Egypt as unclean as a nation of lepers, He could easily cleanse and deliver them. The serpent sign was to teach Moses not to fear to approach the king of Egypt, and the water of the Nile turned to blood that God would humble the pride of Egypt.

How happy this grateful leper must have been to hear the Lord Jesus say to him, "Arise; go thy way; thy faith hath made thee whole." We think of His word to the penitent woman in the house of Simon, the Pharise, "Thy sins are forgiven: * * * Thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace." Also to the woman who had been twelve years sick and growing worse. "Daughter, be of good comfort; thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace" (Luke vii, 48, 50; viii, 48).

"Labor Omnia Vincit." "Labor conquers all" is a frequent class motto. Good! Go to the ant and consider its indefatigableness. If your foot accidentally kicks away the timbers of an ant city they go to work instantly to recover the disaster. San Francisco could not do better. Their fight gives way to industry. They do not seem to sit around moping at an unkind fate. If our human scheme of usefulness and our plan of work fail, why should we become atheists or contemplate suicide? Let's trust God, do our duty. The best days are yet to come. Persistent labor is the lesson of the ant hill. Don't decline work because it is insignificant. Twenty specks of ant food would hardly make the scales quiver. But "every mickle makes a muckle" to the ant. We have a habit of feeling hurt at a small mission, but anything that God puts before us is important. The tiny needle of the compass may be more important than the mighty anchor on our life's voyage. There is no lack of generals and colonels in our church work. What we need is an army of private soldiers to do ordinary work in ordinary ways, in ordinary places, tasks seemingly as unimportant as the ant rolling a crumb of bread into its city.

SATURDAY NIGHT SERMONS.

BY
REV. SAMUEL W. PURVIS, D. D.

THE ANT TEACHER.
Text, "Go to the ant, consider her ways and be wise."—Prov. vi, 6-8.

Most of us consider our own ways as sufficient. We are the acme of wisdom. To go to any subhuman creature to learn to be wise would seem a strange reversal. Yet the Bible directs us there. Those who go learn much. Nature is a great teacher. The spider is a great weaver and bridge builder. The sting of a bee is the only perfect point. The squirrel carries a chisel in his mouth. The woodpecker has a powerful triphammer. The framework of a ship must be modeled on the skeleton of a herring. A lifeboat must be constructed like the egg of a gnat. The iron mast of a ship must be built like a porcupine's quill. To construct a diving bell we must first consult the water spider. The ant has a brain proportionally larger than a man. It is the most intelligent of the subhuman of our fellow creatures. The elephant comes next, the spider next, the dog next. The ant has, next to man, the most perfect nervous system. The more nearly perfect the nervous system the more intelligent the creature. The ant is the most tireless worker in the world. It doesn't seem to sleep. If it does it is with one eye open.

A Marvelous Creature.

If it hasn't reason it has something akin to it. It is a civil engineer. It will build a bridge of straws over fly paper to get at a ham bone. It will construct a highway over sticky tar to get at a saucer of molasses. It has some kind of language. A little pall of sugar was suspended by a heavy twine from a door frame. The ants went up the door post, down the string and back again with their grains of sugar. Then they consulted their efficiency expert. It was found that now some ants remained in the pall of sugar, carried the grains to the edge, dropped them down; the workers underneath on the ground carried them off. Was it reason? They will build a suspension bridge of their own bodies. They will remember each other after an absence of two years. They will know each other from strangers in an ant city of over 500,000, a population like Cleveland, Baltimore or Pittsburgh. Their division of labor is admirable. In a city of half a million each one seems to have his own work. Some are nurses for the young. Some are digging or mining the earth. Some are building up pillars or plastering rooms. Some are gathering food, some storing it. Some are police and sentries. Some are soldiers. They keep cows and milk them. Some are agriculturists. They plant rice and harvest it. They punish the lazy, execute wrongdoers, bury the dead. I regret to tell some are slaveholders. Some are worthless parasites, and "society" folks, "privileged classes," a few are tramps, hanging about the outskirts of cities, picking up what they can—poor, worthless vagabonds, "undesirable citizens."

"Consider Her Ways."

Consider the ant's providence, forethought, anticipation of necessities. The farmers are not more busy in July and August reaping their harvest than are the ants in gathering and storing away. In every human neighborhood are prosperous folks, earning good money, who live up to every dollar, raising their families in luxurious idleness, and at death expect some kind friends to provide their daughters with genteel employment. Some men have large personal expenses, club dues, high priced cigars, Pullman travel all ways, while they ask their wives to economize on domestic help and buy at the cut rate stores. Some wives and daughters run up big bills in department stores, hire a caterer for every simple luncheon and in summer loiter on hotel piazzas, while their husbands grovel in low finance and plan to keep out of embezzlers' cells. Some day there is a ghastly revelation. In almost every life comes a winter of misfortune. What ship has never been caught in a storm? Examine the pantries of an ant hill in April; you will find last summer's supply not yet exhausted. Go again in July and you will find them being replenished. Plan now for your orphan children. Make provision also for your soul's eternal future.

"Labor Omnia Vincit."

"Labor conquers all" is a frequent class motto. Good! Go to the ant and consider its indefatigableness. If your foot accidentally kicks away the timbers of an ant city they go to work instantly to recover the disaster. San Francisco could not do better. Their fight gives way to industry. FOR THE CHILDREN

Campfire Girls.
Campfire girls, like all of their sex, have to do with a great variety of occupations, but as an organization they have chosen eight "crafts" in which they may win "honors." The very first one mentioned is the health craft, and a girl competing for honors in this important section may win one in each of thirty different ways. She may, for instance, swim 100 yards or qualify in any four standard styles of swimming, such as crawl, breast, overhand, etc., or she may play outdoor games for a certain number of hours each month. Indeed, the greater proportion of health honors are gained by success in those athletic stunts suitable to girls—boating, horseback riding, etc. But a young woman may also win honors by keeping herself free from colds or headaches. There is also an honor for self control in diet (eat candy, gum, sodas, etc.). The outward badge of a health honor is a red bead, and a girl may be proud to have her necklace well stocked with them. Other divisions are home craft, nature lore, camp craft, hand craft, business, patriotism, national honor, the first giving a chance for honors in many kinds of home and domestic work.

Disappearing Animals.
Every year certain animals which used to wander in great numbers over the land are becoming more scarce. The bison and buffalo, which formerly were common, exist no longer, except for certain small herds in Yellowstone park and Canada, and those which are in a few game preserves.
The dodo is thought by many people to be a myth, but it really existed. Somewhat too bulky to fly, it was in appearance like a big pigeon, and hundreds and hundreds of years ago it lived in Madagascar. The dodo was practically devoured out of existence by explorers and sailors, and no live specimen has been seen since 1681.
It is thought by some people that the great auk is really not extinct, although a specimen has not been seen for over fifty years.
The great auks were common on the rocky islets off northern Scotland a hundred years ago.

Conundrums.
Why does an onion resemble a ring-bell? Because peel follows peel.
Why is a sheet of postage stamps like distant relatives? Because they are slightly connected.
What is the color of a grass plot covered with snow? Invisible green.
When does a son not take after his father? When his father leaves him nothing to take.
If wood is worth $200 a cord, what will a ton of coal come to? Ashes.
When is a bonnet not a bonnet? When it becomes a girl.
When does a girl become a two wheeled carriage? When she is a little sulky.
What low born, ill bred fellow has noble blood in him? A flea when he bites lords and ladies.
Where was the Declaration of Independence signed? At the bottom.

An Amusing Toy.
Here is a little toy that any one can make. It is amusing and need not cost anything. Take a round box of tin, cardboard or wood and cut in the center of its bottom and lid a rectangular notch, turning back the tongues outward at right angles. Fasten the middle of an elastic band around a small lump of lead of such shape that it will hang down. Pass the ends of the elastic through the holes from the inside and attach them to the projecting tongues. Put on the lid and press down the tongues so that they will hold the elastic firmly. The plaything is finished. If you send it rolling across the floor the weight of the lead inside will twist the elastic band, and as this untwists it will roll the box back to you.

The Floating Needle.
Fill a wineglass or tumbler with water, produce a needle and challenge any one present to make the needle float on the water.
After they have tried—and failed—produce a piece of tissue paper and lay it flat on the surface of the water. Place the needle gently upon it. In a little while the paper will sink, leaving the needle floating upon the water.
The explanation of this trick is that the needle will float if it is quite dry, but it is practically impossible to place it on the water with the fingers without dipping it right in.
If the needle is magnetized it will point north and south.

Feather in the Cap.
This little phrase is often used to denote some mark of honor or distinction. It originated from a custom, once almost universal, of adding a feather to the headgear for every enemy slain. It still survives in Scotland as an honor for the sportsman of a party killing the first woodcock.

Blindman's Buff.
Ah, catch me if you can!
Catch me, catch me, catch me if you can!
Was there ever such a game
As "blind man's buff?"
No, there never was a game
Like "blind man's buff!"
Our fathers and our mothers played before us,
Our grandfathers and grandmothers before us,
And I verily believe
That the chicks of Mother Eve
Played the selfsame game,
Played it just the same!
Ah, catch me if you can!
Catch me, catch me, catch me if you can!

PAPA MUST KEEP SWEET.
Once more the cook stove must be moved. The carpet must be beat. And, though he gets bang full of dust, Yes, papa must keep sweet.

The furniture must go upstairs. The carpet be tacked neat. And, though he hammers off a thumb, Yes, papa must keep sweet.

The piano must be changed round. And, though it smashes his feet, Why, papa mustn't say a word— Yes, papa must keep sweet.

The house must be turned upside down. And not a bite to eat. And, though he is most starved to death, Yes, papa must keep sweet.

But mother she may growl all day And sass the band to beat, But papa must an angel be— Yes, papa must keep sweet.

EGG SHOWS.
Egg shows are now a part of the exhibits at many county fairs, poultry exhibitions, farmers' club competitions and farmers' institutes.
These are an excellent feature. They encourage egg farmers to produce eggs of quality and induce many to enter the ranks of winter egg producers to compete. To win the prize for the best eggs entered is a fine advertisement for a man's stock, and such an award, printed in the local papers and on a breeder's letter head and egg card.

FARM INSTITUTE PRIZE EGGS.
ton, brings him trade and extra money. The judging of these eggs should be public and instructive. Though eggs are common to everybody can judge, and most of the judging is simply done by weight, with no examination of contents.
There are times when eggs are so close that six dozen in a bunch may be about all alike, but an examination of their contents may show a difference, and an egg judge should know an egg inside and out and the rating of the different qualities so that an equitable award may be made.
The best score card for eggs we have so far seen was used at Cornell (N. Y.) State College of Agriculture at the last Farmers' week, and we hereby furnish it to those desirous for information on the subject:

MARKET EGG SCORE CARD.
Disqualifications:
Unmistakable signs of faking.
An egg unfit for eating purposes.
If any egg is disqualified the whole entry shall be discarded.
Valuation size:
Should be large and uniform..... 20
Shape:
Should be uniform..... 5
Color:
Must be uniformly pure white or brown..... 15
Shell:
Must be unwashed, but clean; smooth, strong, free from cracks. Its texture should be uniform..... 10
Interior quality (by candling):
The air space should be small, and the inner shell membrane near the air space should be firm. The contents should be translucent, with the yolk showing but slightly..... 50
An entry shall consist of one dozen eggs.

DON'TS.
Don't hold a grudge. A little bitterness, like gall, can kill much sweet and spoil a whole life. Hate hung Haman.

Don't expect to raise many of your chicks if you keep them on rank ground. Their runs should be clean and green.

Don't abuse the broodies. The hen that hatches and broods a bunch of chicks gets a natural rest and lays better for it.

Don't let the lice get your chicks. They kill and stunt much young stock that louse killer will save.

Don't put off a task because it's disagreeable. If a hen is sick treat her quick.

Don't minimize your mistakes and magnify another's.
Don't forget that inbreeding results in decreased vigor and size.

Don't expect stock penned on bare, dirty runs to breed healthy offspring.

Don't start that incubator without a thorough inspection. Mice often build nests in them, and a mouse nest in a fine won't do.

DON'T KILL THEM WITH KINDNESS.

The little turk in the picture is like many other little poults, chicks and quacks that die every season—he is about to go up the spout because he is fed full to the neck.

These youngsters have such a winning way. Little turks especially set up a squeal like a lot of little pigs. They chase you around and put up such a good bluff that you believe they are starving to death, and you are so good hearted, and you do want them to grow, and brooder chicks, too, have no mother, and every time some person looks at them they think, "The poor motherless bairns!" And so they also must have some more feed, and that's just the way thousands of young stock are killed with kindness.

We ought to follow nature more in our raising of young stock. Mother

KILLED BY KINDNESS.

Turkey, Madam Hen, Mrs. Quack and Mother Goose live rather on the hobo style. They pick up a little here, a little there and no large quantity anywhere, and their rule is:
Feed little, but often.

We should study the digestive system of fowls, and we will find the water fowl's different from the hen's, the turkey's, duck's and chicken's digestive apparatus different in certain particulars and their capacity for digesting and assimilating feed not near so great as some persons imagine.

We should study the different breeds as to digestive capacity and their capability to be forced for fast growth, and we will find some get sour crop and go down with leg weakness on what others will thrive and get fat on.

We must remember these tiny balls of down that come from the shell are but tender babies—that have delicate organs that are not hard to break down and need little to sustain them.

Much young stock dies from overfeeding and much adult stock also.
Many hens do not wear out laying, but trying to digest an overplus of feed. They break down, get baggy, drop over dead from apoplexy, because of overfat.

They get sour crop, liver trouble; they don't lay nor pay because they are overfed.

FEATHERS AND EGGSHELLS.

An American firm claims to have sold 40,000 incubators last year. Now, it is claimed a single 100 egg machine does the work in a season of thirty-three hens, and if these 40,000 incubators were of only 100 egg capacity there you have just 1,321,000 old, screaming chicks put out of the hatching business, and if laying instead of hatching their eggs would pay for all the hatching operations, and then some.

Crowded brooders and colony houses certainly mean bad air, multiplying lice, disease, mortality and stunted stock. Since incubators make it so easy to hatch chicks many will hatch beyond their capacity to house or to feed right. They bite off more chicken than they can chew and then rue.

There are what are called "diseases of civilization" to which savages are not subject. Likewise with the hen her domestication and development to unnatural size and egg production have caused diseases to which aboriginal poultry was not subject.

What has become of all those chicken systems that guaranteed thousands off a town lot in the twinkling of an eye. They were and are not, but their victims still have a painful remembrance of parting with their good money for a gold brick.

In England the hen is called "The Cinderella of Agriculture" because she is so neglected by the government, and so little is appropriated for poultry culture. A number of our states are treating Biddy the same way, but perhaps they will get wise some day and wake up from their Rip van Winkle sleep.

The accumulation of pigeon droppings until the loft floor is caked with them is a sure sign that the owner is not going to accumulate wealth from the squab business. Oh, bughouse, you sure are nix-cum-erous!

Last year 4,000 cases of eggs from the orient arrived at San Francisco under the five cent tariff. By the way they are coming in now, free of duty, the local merchants estimate an importation of 30,000 cases for the new year. This is certainly considered a deadly yellow peril by the Pacific coast poultrymen, and they have already called the attention of the government to the liability of disease being introduced by the foreign hen fruit and that they are being sold as home product.

It is claimed poultry lice are true insects, but in a degraded form through the loss of wings. This is a question for our louse specialists to determine. We rather think the poultry raiser who allows his poultry to be infested has retrograded to the bughouse class.

"I have taken Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for five years and they are the only thing that does me any good. They have relieved neuralgia in my head in fifteen minutes.
